

Edible Express - York Environment Week Edition.

#YorkActsTogether.

18th to 26th September 2021.

York Environment Week 21 is a celebration of everything people in York are doing to improve our local environment and tackle climate change. All events are free, but some will ask for donations. Some events are online and many in-person.

Edible York is organising two events which are part of the YEW 21 programme. No need to book, please drop-in and see us.

The Tang Hall Leek Show.

A traditional Leek show with a difference – to promote the fun and creativity of growing leeks of all shapes and sizes, alongside other edibles. Residents have been nurturing their plants for months. We are also pressing Abundance apples to provide fresh juice to taste, and the Food Circle monthly Producers Market will take place next door for those wanting to buy great locally grown food.

Saturday 25th September, 12.00 – 1.30.
Tang Hall Community Centre, Fifth Avenue, York YO31 0UG

City-centre edible gardening at Peasholme Green.

Edible York's second city-centre garden has been going for 10 years. This drop-in session will show the range of produce grown in a small space, offer bags of herbs, and samples of Abundance apples. Organisers will be on hand to explain more and answer any questions.

Wednesday 22nd September, 2.00 – 3.00.
Peasholme Green opposite the Black Swan pub, York, YO1 7PJ

Full details of York Environment Week 21 – Tackling Climate Change are available here.

Edible York is Registered Charity number:1158779.

If you want no more information and news emailed to you please reply and we will stop sending.

